

Procedures to File for Reinstatement

Students who plan to enroll in a K-State college other than the College of Agriculture should contact the dean's office in the college in which the student is interested in enrolling.

Students who are seeking reinstatement and plan on enrolling in the College of Agriculture should use the following checklist and steps for readmission:

NOTE: University policy states that, "Normally a student must wait at least two terms before being considered for reinstatement." The College of Agriculture Academic Standards Committee will consider students who apply earlier. However, the committee is unlikely to reinstate students who have been dismissed without an extenuating circumstance.

Each of the following steps must be completed before a student can receive an appointment with the Academic Standards Committee.

- Complete the online readmission application with K-State. Be sure to fill out the form for returning students*. <http://www.k-state.edu/admissions/apply/>
Students who have not been dismissed for at least one semester, do not need to complete the readmission application.*
- Prepare the petition for reinstatement to the College of Agriculture which is found in this document. Petitions are available online at <https://www.ag.k-state.edu/student-success/academic-services/student-handbook/reinstatement.html>.
- Confer with your academic advisor or an advisor in your new major before completing the Petition for Reinstatement. The advisor should be included in determining appropriate classes and must sign the petition.
- If you have an extenuating circumstance which contributed to your academic performance, you MUST make an appointment with the Student Support & Accountability (<https://www.k-state.edu/student-support/>) at least a week before the Petition Due Date listed below. The Student Support & Accountability office may request documentation from a medical provider or others addressing the circumstances. The Student Support & Accountability office will provide a recommendation to the Academic Standards Committee based on information provided. DO NOT provide any documentation directly to the College of Ag, as it will NOT be viewed by the Academic Standards Committee.

* A short meeting with an Assistant or Associate Dean may be required prior to meeting with the Academic Standards Committee in order to summarize the above information for your committee meeting.

* The same general information can be shared with your advisor and referenced in your two-page essay. Again, there is no need to share the details of the extenuating circumstance, but you may wish to discuss how you have addressed the issues in preparation for returning to classes. The same general information provided by the medical professional listed above can be shared with your advisor and referenced in your two-page essay. Again, there is no need to share what the condition is or the details of the treatment, but you may wish to discuss how you have addressed the issues in preparation for returning to classes.*

- ❑ The completed petition must include the following items:
 - Petition for reinstatement
 - A two-page typed summary of your reason(s) for desiring a college education. Explain the factors which led to your dismissal and changes you have made regarding those factors that will result in your success as a student.
 - The Current Academic Semester Evaluation form if you are currently enrolled in classes at another institution at the time of submitting your petition for reinstatement.
 - Any transcript or proof of grades for any college classes you have completed since being dismissed. This may include unofficial transcripts or grade reports. This should be included with the petition for reinstatement regardless of whether you have submitted a transcript to the K-State admissions office.

- ❑ Return the completed petition and any additional documents to Waters Hall 229 or email to agacademic@ksu.edu by the date listed below according to the semester you are asking to enroll. Incomplete petitions or petitions received after the deadline will not be considered and students are encouraged to apply for future meetings.

After Ag Academic Programs receives your completed petition, you will be contacted within 48 hours of the submission deadline with an appointment time to meet with the Academic Standards committee.

NOTE: The appointment with the Academic Standards Committee will provide the student a 20-minute discussion with the academic standards committee to discuss their petition for reinstatement. The meeting is the student's opportunity to discuss possible reinstatement with the committee; attendance at the meeting is limited to the student and the committee. The discussion will focus on:

- ✓ Why you desire a college education
- ✓ What factors led to your dismissal
- ✓ What changes you have made that will ensure your future academic success

If the student has a documented disability and needs an accommodation for the meeting, the student should make such a request as far in advance of the meeting as possible, to allow for any appropriate accommodation to be determined and arranged. K-State's Student Access Center staff reviews student documentation and determines appropriate accommodations.*
